Not a Used Dog, At All and Recollections of My Puppy

Carol Erickson and Arthur Alan Wolk have both authored children's books about the surprises, and the joy, that animals bring to our lives. The authors will meet and greet children and their parents at Buzzy's Bow Wow Meow to discuss their latest work on Sunday November 15, 2009 from 1 PM to 3 PM.

Not a Used Dog, At All is Carol's story about Matt, a boy who only wants a fluffy pet store dog, not a 'used' dog from a shelter. When Matt meets a homeless dog, he learns some important truths about shelter dogs, store-bought puppies and the difference one child can make.

Recollections of My Puppy is Arthur's poignant and funny chronicle of the first year in the life of Boo, a Golden Retriever, and her Dad, Arthur. It begins when Boo, then eight weeks old, comes to live in Dad's home, and ends one year later when Boo leaves babyhood and becomes an adolescent.

A Question and Answer session with Carol and Arthur will highlight the afternoon, with everyone getting the chance to get up close and personal with the authors.

Proceeds from both books will go to animal shelters and rescue groups supported by Carol and Arthur.
